Cold Weather Blasts Randall Wheat Hopes

Some farmers in Randall County expect to receive little more than seed wheat from their crops planted last fall, while others expect a fair harvest of the grain.

Low temperatures, which killed many of the wheat plant's bloom in May, coupled with greenbugs and lack of moisture, have hurt prospects for the grain, said Randall County Agent John Brazzil.

It is difficult to speculate exactly how much loss resulted from the early May freeze, Brazzil stated, because of a variation in the growth stage and the low temperatures.

"Some have estimated," Brazzil continued, "that irrigated wheat may have been hurt as much as 20 per cent because of the freeze. Some even more."

Charles Conatser, nine miles east of Canyon, said there were some grains in the head, but that the dryland wheat received might not pay for the cutting.

Joe Cox, who farms three miles south of Conatser, said his irrigated wheat was a 100 per cent loss because of the freeze.

The Edgar Robinsons, residents in the Jowell Community, have already plowed 300 acres of dryland wheat that was frozen, leaving them with 200 acres of the grain.

"We might get back our seed," Mrs. Robinson said.

Wheat prospects were brighter in the Umbarger Community

More Housing For Students

More off-campus housing for West Texas State University students will be available when the fall semester begins in September, said Dean of Student Life T. Paige Carruth.

Dr. Carruth said owners of the Towers, Ponderosa, and Lynette apartments had agreed to rent rooms to single students.

New Rule Invoked

Elton Cox is the first attorney to be appointed in Randall County under a new Supreme Court ruling that even accused juveniles must be furnished with an attorney if they desire one.

Cox has been appointed to represent a 16-year-old Amarillo boy taken into custody for driving a car without the owner's consent.

The boy's father is in prison and the mother is in a hospital.

County Judge Lloyd King appointed Cox to represent the youth.

Top Award For Katie Upshaw

Canyon High School's highest senior student honor was awarded to Katie Upshaw Wednesday afternoon when she was named as the recipient of the CHS Award in an all-school assembly.

Miss Upshaw is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Upshaw of Canyon. She was presented with the honor by Hobart McDonald, principal of the school.

Recipient of the award is judged on scholastic records, leadership activities and participation in school activities and is annually selected by members of the faculty.

The CHS Award is a plaque, which will have Miss Upshaw's name engraved on it. The plaque will remain on display in the entry hall at Canyon High School, according to McDonald.

Train Accident

Canyon Tot Killed

Sante Fe Freight Strikes Toddler

A Canyon tot was killed here Tuesday afternoon when he was struck by a west-bound Santa Fe freight train.

Dead is Carl Ross Henson, about 20 months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Henson of 710 Fourth Avenue.

The tragedy took place about 4:43 o'clock just north of the 600 block of Second Avenue. The train involved was a through Santa Fe 53 from Chicago to the West Coast.

Engineer H. C. "Rip" Van Winkle, Amarillo, told city police he was watching the signals at the Fourth Street crossing when he saw the child on the tracks.

Van Winkle was quoted by officers as having said it was about 75 to 100 feet from the point where he first saw the child.

HHS Services Are Planned

Baccalaureate services for graduating seniors at Happy High School will be held Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the HHS auditorium.

Slated to address the 25 graduates is Rev. James E. Merrill, pastor of the Happy Methodist Church.

Commencement exercises for HHS seniors will be held Tuesday evening, May 23, at 8 o'clock in the HHS auditorium with Cone Johnson, a member of the Happy School Board in charge of presenting the diplomas.

Mrs. Gene Moore of Clarendon will address the group at commencement and the top graduates, Bill Vernon, valedictorian, and Mike McCarley, salutatorian, will give brief speeches at the occasion.

little boy to the point of impact.

B. R. Ratliff, Canyon, head brakeman said he saw the child about the same time as Van Winkle. The child was walking west between the rails.

From the point of impact to where the body came to rest measured about 105 feet.

An estimated 40 railroad cars of the 75-car train passed over the body before Brakemen Ratliff and J. C. Clements, Amarillo, were able to stop the train.

The emergency brakes were applied as were the emergency sanders in an attempt to get a better grip on the rails and stop the train.

Van Winkle radioed Conductor Ronald Lee Day, Amarillo, who was in the caboose, that the train had just hit a child. Time of the radio call was 4:43.

Day notified the dispatcher that the train had just hit a child.

The child was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson.

The body was identified at the scene by Johnny Bewley, 14, of 607 First Avenue.

Officers said Mrs. Henson and another child, a daughter, Kim, 5, were visiting in the J. L. Bewley home, 607 First

Rev. Boyett To Address CHS Seniors

Rev. Jack Boyett, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church of Canyon, will be principal speaker at baccalaureate services for the Canyon High School graduating class of 1967.

Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday evening at 8:15 in the CHS auditorium and the graduates will be dressed in their purple and white caps and gowns for the occasion.

The prelude, processional and recessional will be presented at the organ by Mrs. Lee Foster. Invocation and benediction by Herman Alexander, pastor of the Central Church of Christ of Canyon, and introduction of guest speaker by Huelyn Laycock, superintendent of schools.

Commencement exercises for seniors will be conducted May 26 in the CHS auditorium.

Court Criticism Stings Hancock

Stung by criticism for having ordered an autopsy on an Amarillo man in March, Justice of the Peace W. W. "Shorty" Hancock Tuesday said police had requested it.

Commissioner B. R. Jones was critical of Hancock for ordering the autopsy and said it cost the county $100. Hancock said the autopsy was necessary to determine the cause of death.

Jones said that if that theory were used it would be necessary to perform an autopsy on every one who dies in the county. "I don't question his authority to order one," Jones declared.

Contacted Tuesday, Hancock said he had conferred with investigating officers and the man's doctor. He said the officers requested an autopsy.

Hancock said the man was found fully clothed lying face down on the front room floor of his home.

"I haven't ordered one (an autopsy) yet without talking it over with investigating officers first," declared Hancock.

Hancock finally ruled death due to a heart attack in the case.

County Clerk Leroy Hutton Monday told commissioners court that a new coin-operated Xerox copying machine has almost eliminated the necessity of his office handling loose change.

Action Delayed On JH Building

Decision on a course of action on junior high school building facilities here probably will be taken Tuesday night of next week at a called school board meeting.

Action on the matter was tabled at a meeting Tuesday night of this week because board member Walter Graham was absent.

There have been two proposals -- one to build a new junior high school building at an approximate cost of $1,200,000 and the other to remodel the existing building at an estimated cost of $750,000.

Board member Bill Davis made a motion that a bond election be called to vote bonds

City Dads Talk About One-Ways

BY WAYNE BOARD

The possibility of removing one-way traffic signs on Third and Fifth Avenues and converting traffic to two-way was discussed Monday by City Commissioners but action on the move was tabled.

"I get a lot of objections to one-ways," said Commissioner Felix Pierce.

Pierce said one man complained of a 20 per cent business loss because of the one-ways and another of about 25 per cent. One said, however, his business had increased by about 15 per cent.

"I haven't talked to anyone who liked them," said Commissioner Tom Foster, "but most of the people who said that don't live on either Third or Fifth."

"It's easier for me to travel on Fifth now," Foster commented.

Mayor Paul Lindsey, who had first proposed making one-way traffic on the avenues to temporarily solve parking problems near West Texas State University, said he thought one-ways had helped alleviate traffic congestion between 23rd and 28th St. on Fifth.

"Overall," said City Manager Gary Gwyn, "there is an improvement."

Graduation exercises for eight eighth grade students at Umbarger School will be conducted this afternoon, Thursday, in the school auditorium.

County Judge Lloyd King will present the diplomas and address the graduates in the program which begins at 1:30 p.m.

Of the graduates, seven will be transferred to Canyon High School and one will transfer to the Hereford Public Schools.

Graduating will be Philip Brandt, Beverly Friemel, Robert Friemel, Charles Stocker, Michael Wiecek, Andrew Wilhelm, Henry Ramackers, and Patricia Wiecek.

The graduation program will officially close the school's current session.

Connally Would Veto Regent Bill

Area legislators have been told by Gov. John Connally that any bill designed to give West Texas State University a separate board of regents would be vetoed.

J. M. "Red" Simpson said Monday that he had been told by the governor that any such measure would be killed by veto.

Senator Grady Hazlewood of Canyon and Simpson had planned to introduce an amended version of a bill that Governor Connally killed last week.

This plan has been abandoned.

The original bill would have removed WTSU from the jurisdiction of the Texas Senior Colleges Board of Regents and created a new nine-member board of regents for WTSU.

Old Grads Meet At WT Saturday

Returning to the West Texas State University campus this weekend will be about 50 graduates of classes from 1911-1917.

"This has never been done before," said Vaughn Vandergriff, secretary of West Texas Ex-Students Association, Inc., although it has long been the wish of the exes association that graduates of this school could be invited back on the 50th anniversary of their graduation.

Registration for the exes will be conducted Saturday from 1:30 until 3 p.m. in McCaslin Hall.

A reception honoring the grads is slated in McCaslin Hall Ballroom from 3 until 5 p.m. Any Canyon residents who know the graduates are invited to attend the reception and also a visitation session at McCaslin from 7 until 9:30 p.m.

Dr. J. A. Hill, WTSU president-emeritus and the only living member of the original faculty, will address the exes at the visitation period.

Late registration will be held Sunday at McCaslin from 10 a.m. until noon and chauffeur-driven automobiles will be available to take the exes to

PTA Buys Equipment

Two "listening stations" were purchased this year through efforts of the Rex Reeves Parent-Teacher Association projects committee.

Each listening station is composed of a tape recorder, record player, film viewer and earphones for four students and is used as a study aid.

The stations, which are located in the school library, are furnished with various films, records and tapes and may be used by small groups in a manner that does not disturb other library students.

Mrs. Harry Widick, outgoing president of the PTA group, explained several other PTA projects which have benefited the school this year. These

The numbers are being painted with luminous paint at $1.75 for a white background with green numbers or $1 for green numbers with no background.

Orders may be placed and additional information obtained on style and type is available from Mrs. Charles Marshall, OLS-3383.

The hearing station was donated by the school's Parent-Teachers Association and can be used by four students simultaneously as a special study aid in the library.

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

By Troy Martin

J. O. Parker called my hand on my arithmetic last week. I said a new junior high school building would cost only a third more than a remodeling job. New cost is estimated at $1,200,000 and remodeling cost is estimated at $750,000.

I should have said that remodeling would cost approximately two thirds as much as a new building. My apologies to J. O.

I realize that the economy of the entire Panhandle has been hit by drought and freezing. The wheat crop has been almost ruined.

This might make for tough sledding for a school bond issue right now.

If we have to wait a year to build a new building, that is one thing. Pouring $750,000 into a 1923 vintage junior high school building is another.

I would rather wait a year in hopes of getting a new building than to remodel.

However, I tend to agree with Jerry LaGrone who said at Tuesday night's school board meeting that the situation on the junior high school building is critical. We need a new building and we need it now.

Girl Scouts Have Court For Awards

The annual Court of Awards for Junior Girl Scout Troop 142 was conducted Tuesday evening at the Girl Scout Building.

Eighteen members of the troop were also presented with the "sign of the star" by Mrs. Charles R. Nester, Canyon Girl Scout chairman. The award is the highest achievement given in junior scouting work.

Receiving badges and the "sign of the star" were Terry Bourn, Donna Stark, Debbie Patton, Donnetta Williams, Cecilia Winn, Donna Record, Lauran Fulton, Kaysee Martin, Sheryl Bellah, Julie Brantley, Pattie Ormsby, Teddi Crager, Sharon Hare, Betsy Huntington, Cindy Bullock, Barbara McBride, Jo Beth Warren and Susan Hull.

The candlelight ceremony included a flag ceremony with color guard, group singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," the presentation of awards and closing with "Taps."

Benediction was given by Mrs. R. B. Gist, Jr., leader of the Cadette Girl Scouts, which the advanced members will join next fall.

Prichard Gets Bird

A. H. Prichard, Jr., son of Mrs. A.H. Prichard of Canyon, has been promoted to the rank of colonel.

Prichard is with the US Air Force Mission in the US Embassy at Lima, Peru.

His wife and four children, who are in Omaha, Neb., will join him in June.

Dedication Of Markers Set May 28

Three historical markers will be dedicated here May 28 as part of a Randall County Historical Survey Committee project.

One marker will be at the site of the Conner dugout, first home in Canyon. It was located at what is now 1511 Ninth Avenue on property owned by Jack Taylor.

Second marker will be dedicated at the old L. T. Lester home, constructed in 1904.

The home is located at 310 Eighth Street and has been the home of the John Davis family since 1936.

The third marker will be dedicated at the site of the town wagon yard, which was headquarters for ranchers in early days.

It was located at what is now 1702 Fifth Avenue. W. C. Kenyon owned the wagon yard from 1897 to 1908.

C.A. Murray Honored

Clyde A. Murray was guest of honor Thursday night of last week at the annual Edna Graham Scholarship Award Dinner of the West Texas State University Mathematics Club.

The dinner was held in Amarillo. Murray was head of the WT Mathematics Department from 1932 to June of 1957.

Murray is a native of Alabama. His mother died when he was two years old and Clyde went to live with his grandparents.

He heard glowing tales of Texas as a boy in Alabama and at the age of 16 struck out for the Lone Star State.

He did farm work or whatever jobs he could get but he still had an eye on education.

In 1906, he bought a year's scholarship from Dr. W. L. Mayo for $100 for one year at Dr. Mayo's college at Commerce. "I borrowed the $100 and paid it back in 1907 when I began teaching school," he said. The college later was taken over by the state and now is East Texas State College.

"Can you imagine room, board and tuition for $10 a month?" Murray asked recently. At this school Murray was a classmate of Sam Rayburn, later to become one of the most powerful men in America as speaker of the US House of Representatives. Murray remembers that Mr. Sam had lots of push even as a student.

Leaving Mayo College, Murray taught at various small schools. One of those was Matador and Murray tells a funny story on himself.

Murray arrived in Childress on the train but it was necessary to take the mail back from there to his destination. It was 65 miles across country to Matador.

One of the items of cargo was a 300 pound cake of ice. The weather was rainy and the ice kept coming loose from the back of the truck.

Murray and the driver would "wallow" it back up to its precarious perch time and again. "We had about 10 pounds left when we got to Matador," he remembers.

Normally the hack trip would require about a day but the weather was rainy and the streams swollen. There were no bridges across the streams in those days.

"It will be better when we get to shinnery," the hack driver told his passengers. Murray thought Shinnery was a town. The driver stopped to eat at Northfield and made out a meal on cheese and crackers.

Dreaming of a juicy steak instead of dry crackers, Murray decided he would wait and eat at Shinnery. As the hack moved along, Murray asked the driver when they would get to shinnery.

"When he found out I thought Shinnery was a town, the driver almost fell off the back laughing," Murray remembers.

For those uneducated in the ways of the Plains, shinnery is a small shrub which once grew profusely in this area until rangeland gave way to the plow.

The hack got to Matador about 24 hours after leaving Childress.

"We had a good school," Murray declared. "Mrs. Wes Kleinschmidt was one of my students. She was good in math too. She was really smart."

From 1910 to 1912, Murray was high school principal at Paducah. He was superintendent of schools at Rule from 1912 to 1914.

It was at Rule that he met Miss Pearl Earnest. She was teaching at Rule. They were married Aug. 24, 1916 at Rule. "I decided that if I was going to teach, I needed some more education," Murray declared. He went to the University of Texas and received his BA degree in 1917.

Even while he was working for his BA, he taught school in Austin public schools. He then took a job with the State Department of Education and later taught five years in the Dallas school system.

He went back to the University of Texas and received his Masters degree there in 1926. The same year he and Mrs. Murray moved to Canyon and he taught math in West Texas State.

He was named head of the Mathematics Department at WT in September of 1932. He held that position until retiring in September of 1957.

Murray says his toughest job at West Texas State was heading up the National Youth Administration there during the depression. He said there were several students for every NYA job available.

"It was difficult to choose the ones to get the jobs that were available," he declared.

Murray has been active in community affairs and has been a member of the Canyon Rotary Club. He is a member of the Methodist Church and a Sunday school teacher.

A Sunday school class at the church is named for Mrs. Murray.

Murray's favorite sport is fishing. He has a brown trout trophy to prove he's a good fisherman. He caught the 7 pound, 2 ounce fish in Colorado. It took him an hour to land it.

"I helped," laughs Mrs. Murray, "But I don't get any credit for it."

Eight speakers who have had their lives touched by Murray eulogized him at the dinner. These included Miss Alma Hall, teacher at Amarillo Palo Duro High School; E. R. Cleavinger, a former student of Murray; Mrs. Murray; Dr. J. A. Hill, president emeritus of West Texas State; Hollis Cook, present head of the math department at WT; Dr. James P. Cornette, present WT president; Dr. C. E. Burgess, a former student under Murray and presently with the University of Utah; and Edna Graham, a member of the faculty under Murray.

The Murrays have one daughter, Mrs. Virginia Murray Blackburn of Amarillo, wife of Henry Blackburn. They also have three grandchildren.

MR. AND MRS. C. A. MURRAY are shown here in the living room of their home in Canyon. Murray, former head of West Texas State University mathematics department, was honor guest at a WT Mathematics Club dinner Thursday night of last week.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

To the Editor
The Canyon News,
Canyon, Texas

Grab your caps, Kids, here we go! Our school tax rate is changed so as to allow for some fancy raises and we gotta have a new Jr. Hi School, and the Teachers are going to create a crisis if they don't get a raise in salary.

And again the school board goes down to the College crowd and to architect Shiver for advice as to how to solve the building problem. (that's about like asking a rabbit what to do with a bag of carrots.) Doesn't anyone west of hiway 87 know anything about a school? They always manage to make money and be taxed to support the things.

The last school board that got to playing footsie with that crowd at the east end of town ended up paying the tab on a $12,000.00 pup tent for Kerbel's buffalo ranch. Now to avoid playing favorites we'd better buy the future homemaker's club a 12 G kitchen to play house in and get the FFA boys a 12 G piece of land to put in the soil bank etc., etc. The list could go on and on.

One's pay scale is low or high as compared to someone's pay scale. Compared to Gov. Connally's paycheck - yes the teachers are underpaid. Compared to the $65.00 a month G. I. in S. E. Asia they aren't doing bad. Or for the ladies in the crowd; compared to the little gals in white working round the clock to care for the sick in our hospitals and the infirm and worn out in our nursing homes, (parents often worn out slaving to give these people the education they now have), the pay scale isn't bad at all.

OH! You say We're educated! Well La De Da! One case of bad judgment on the teacher's part and the class may get a wrong answer. One miss on the G. I.'s part could well blow a whole crowd to the happy hunting grounds. And one slip on the $1.50 an hour nurse's part and you could lose your loved one. And considering that both the G. I. and the nurse frequently are called upon to make their most important decisions about 3 a.m., a slip on their part could happen mighty easily.

I suggest we .1. Get reimbursed for that 12,000 dollar tarp; then sorta divorce ourselves from those people at the east end of town and run our own school affairs without their help. 2. spend $15.00 for a good clear sign reading "there is no more tax money available" and begin and end each school board and PTA meeting by reading it aloud and together. 3. begin supporting our school system in part by a tax per head on the users; thereby maybe slowing down some of the over - prolific people who gleefully fill the back yard full of children then ask their neighbors to pay taxes on everything they own to help educate, feed and clothe them. Frequently not owning much in the way of taxable assets themselves. 4. Cut out about nine tenths of the unnecessary activities around our schools and concentrate on education, loyalty to one's country, and a little bit of personal appearance. - we could do with a whale of a lot less football! 5. Explain to the teachers that not every one is destined to own a $50,000 home and two cadallacs. We're all underpaid but some of us, having no recourse, simply tighten our belts, lower our sights and exist on what's left after the tax people get thru with us.

c/o The Canyon News

An open letter to our local government and traffic department:

Based on personal knowledge, experiences and concern, I present the following points for clarification and improved public relations. Due to misinterpretations and habits of the general public, would you please define the enforcement policies of the following?

1. The running of a yellow light; at just what point in the changing cycle does it become illegal? As yellow is generally understood to be for caution and a warning to clear the intersection, it is common practice for one to proceed on through providing one clears prior to the turning red. Tickets and fines are sometimes given calling this running a red light when it was really yellow.

2. At STOP signs, are vehicles required to come to a complete stop? Or is slow acceptable? And may one make a right turn without stopping?

3. Are pedestrians subject to violations and penalties as are vehicle operators - namely at all traffic light crossings where it can be very dangerous to all.

4. Are any city, county or state owned vehicles authorized for private use?

5. Is any vehicle operator regardless, except on emergency run and with signals operating, exempt from traffic regulations?

6. With a democratic form of government with its check and balance type system necessary and desirable, is our Corporation Court an independent function based on all the facts as presented and proven by each side, or is it under the police department control and decision and serves mostly as a collection of standard rate fines which a secretary could handle? Our judge tells us he takes the police side, thus resulting in one-sided judgements.

A concerned citizen.

include a series of activities which were added to the curriculum of the school's Special Education classes.

Sponsored by the PTA committee on special education, the year long project entailed three science-oriented field trips which were arranged to Irwin Greenhouse, the college farm at West Texas State University, and Storyland Zoo in Thompson Park at Amarillo. In addition, the committee also provided activities from the speech and music departments at the university.

The PTA committee on character and spiritual education provided weekly devotionals each Friday morning at the school by various pastors of the community. These spiritual messages were presented over the school's inter-com system with one designed for the primary students and one for the junior group. Numerous local pastors were involved in the weekly devotionals.

In the field of cultural arts, the PTA committee displayed reproductions of famous paintings in the halls of the school. These were complete with information and historical background on the artists.

A group of prints from the graphics art classes at WTSU was also displayed and students were alerted when quality programs of special interest to students were to be presented on television. The committee also worked at the local school in cooperation with the Children's Concert of the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra.

Deputy Ray Tinsley notified Mrs. Henson of the tragedy. The Bewleys live about a half block north of the Santa Fe tracks.

Leonard Henson, father of the child, was somewhere near Wheeler when the accident occurred. He learned of the tragedy when he arrived home. He is an adjuster for Farm Bureau insurance. The Hensons moved to Canyon from Lubbock a little more than a year ago, according to associates.

Funeral services for Carl Ross Henson will be held at 11 o'clock today (Thursday) in Wildwood Chapel of Restland Funeral Home in Dallas. Burial will be in Restland Cemetery at Dallas. Officiating will be Rev. Raymond King, a Baptist minister from Lubbock.

Survivors, other than the parents and the sister, include the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sullivan, Garland; and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Henson of Farmers Branch.

Eagles Lose Old . . . To Demons

Fireballing Glenn Bonner set the Canyon Eagles down scoreless as the Dumas Demons rolled to a 10-0 victory and the District 1-AAA baseball crown in the first game of a double-header in Dumas Tuesday afternoon.

Bonner pitched shutout ball in the five-inning affair, shortened by the 10-run rule, striking out 10 and giving up only four hits.

The Eagles claimed a 2-0 lead in the night cap before the Demons put three one-run innings together to eke out a 3-2 triumph.

In the second game, Galen Davis, the game's first batter, scored the game's first run. Joe Moore, aboard via a walk, made the score 2-0 for Canyon in the top of the fifth. Dumas came to life in the third, however, and pushed across one run, repeating the act in each of the next two frames.

Max Sunderman went the route in the second tilt, striking out seven and yielding but four hits in seven innings. Jerry Lehnick took the loss in the opener.

The twin bill ended the Eagle baseball season at an 0-8 district mark. It was only the second season for Canyon High School to compete in baseball, however, and at one stage in the campaign the Eagles had a five-game winning streak going for them.

Saturday the Eagles hosted Hereford and dropped a 4-1 decision to the Whitefaces. Canyon's only run came on Yogi Rossi's tally in the fourth inning when Jack Swatzell slammed a double.

"I know at the end of each day by reading the counting device on the machine just how many copies have been made," said Hutton. "We can check this figure against cash received and know each day just how we stand."

Questioned by Commissioner Jones, Hutton declared that the machine has solved most of his money handling problems.

"I have never questioned the honesty of my office workers," declared Hutton Tuesday. "It's just good business to keep strict accounts and I feel I owe it to the people of Randall County to do so."

In other business Monday, commissioners voted to ask for an extension of emergency farm loans through Farm Home Administration, a federal agency.

John Henry met with the court on behalf of the extension. Henry is associated with Farm Home Administration. The FHA will be extended from July 1, 1967 through June 30, 1968.

Low bid of $386 by Clegg and Co., San Antonio, was accepted for five dockets to be used by the county's two justices of the peace. Four other firms submitted bids.

provement since the one-ways came in, but the problem is still between 23rd and 28th."

A petition signed by several residents on Fifth Avenue was presented by Hosea Foster, Canyon businessman, asking that the avenue be widened the same as Fourth Avenue.

The petition requested that Fifth Avenue between 16th and 19th St. be widened to 68 feet.

Foster presented aerial maps, pictures, and charts citing Canyon growth and residential development.

"I want a further study by a capable engineer," said Mayor Lindsey, "before we go any further. Street-wise, Canyon doesn't have much of a problem."

Mayor Lindsey had earlier proposed that both Third and Fifth Avenues be widened eight feet on each side to allow for more traffic flow and to remove the one-way street signs.

"If you just widen Fifth eight feet," Hosea Foster said, "I think you're wasting your money."

Mayor Lindsey pointed out costs involved in widening the 31' street to 68' and said a bond issue would probably be involved.

"We're not trying to force anyone into a bond issue," Foster commented.

Foster, along with Canyon businessmen Jack and Buddy Taylor, requested that the commission relocate storm sewers at the intersection of Foster Lane and 28th St. where the trio plans to construct an apartment building.

"This needs to be worked out by an engineer," Mayor Lindsey said.

In a further discussion of streets, Mayor Lindsey said he felt in the next two years Canyon would have 175 more dwellings, plus apartments and new facilities at WTSU.

Lindsey said although he did not wish to forget streets, sewage was a more critical problem.

"We can't wait--we may have already waited a year too long," he said.

The mayor instructed Gwyn to work with City Engineer Bill McMorries in finding a suitable location for a new sewage treatment plant.

Commissioners adopted a resolution writing off $1,122.10 in tax assessment errors.

Most of the errors were for double assessment and charges to non residents.

Gwyn was given authority by the commission to regulate proper covers for trucks hauling trash to the city dump grounds.

A request by Dr. Burwell Southern that the commission support a proposed bowling association for Canyon was approved.

Mrs. Bourland Given Honors

Mrs. Genelle Bourland has been selected as "secretary of the year" by the Tierra Blanca chapter of the National Secretaries Association of Canyon.

Mrs. Bourland has served as president of the group during its first year of activity in Canyon. She was selected by a general vote of the membership.

Mrs. Bourland will be among secretaries of the state honored at a state convention of the NSA to be held next week in Galveston. She will be accompanied to the convention by several local members of the group.

Maria Fortin, who farms northwest of the city, said her wheat had also been grazed until late March and suffered little freeze damage.

Alfalfa on the Fortin farm was in its most tender stage of growth and was frozen, she said.

Brazzil said although some farmers in the area had been cutting their wheat for cattle feed, he does not recommend the practice until it can be determined what the overall freeze damages were.

"It's hard to pen down," he said, "because loss and damages will vary from one end of the field to the other."

There were about 155,000 acres seeded in wheat of which some 30,000 acres is on irrigated land.

"We have no figures on dryland wheat that has already been abandoned due to lack of moisture," Brazzil said, "although it could be as much as one-half that planted."

Although a Federal Crop Insurance includes coverage on several crops, there is none for wheat, Brazzil said.

It would be unlikely, said the county agent, that few if any farmers were covered by risk insurance on the wheat.

"Wheat harvesting will be very much below what we normally expect," Brazzil said in summing up farming prospects. "Of course, we're still looking for and needing that much-needed rain," he added.

dents and other owners will probably follow suit.

The move was prompted, said the dean, because of an overabundance of students seeking rooms last fall.

The 10 residence halls on campus, he pointed out, were overflowing and additional accommodations had to be sought to deal with an increased enrollment.

WTSU has been given authorization to proceed with plans for a 500-room complex to be open tentatively in 1969.

The complex is being planned to house 300 men and 200 women students, he said.

The WTSU Security Department will have no jurisdiction in these off-campus residences, Dr. Carruth said, and enforcement will be through the Canyon Police Department and the Randall County Sheriff's Office.

Although a bill recently passed the Texas Legislature dealing with security departments on college campuses, it will affect enforcement only on the campus itself.

Senate Bill 162, said the dean, gives the security officers control primarily over those not enrolled at WTSU but on the campus.

Students eligible to live off-campus are those males either seniors, graduate students or 21 years of age who are required to have a letter of authorization from the dean's office.

Women students must be graduates, or 21 years of age.

Special exceptions such as physical handicaps, illness and financial difficulty will also be considered in determining who may live off-campus, he said.

to build a new building. The motion was seconded by Jerry LaGrone.

"I'd rather vote on this thing when everyone is present," declared board member Joe Gill. "All of us (board members) knew that a meeting was being held tonight," declared Davis.

Board President Wesley Cox said Graham had called him earlier in the week and said he was going to California on an emergency.

Davis said that further delay was just putting off making a decision on the matter.

Cox told the board that Graham had told him that he would appreciate the board not making a decision until he could be present.

"I don't think putting it off would hurt and it could help a lot," declared Gill.

"This could keep being put off indefinitely by one man being absent," said Davis. "You're just trying to put off making a decision. I don't think we can put off much longer doing something about that junior high school building."

"We've got to present a united front, whatever we do," said LaGrone.

LaGrone said the building situation at junior high school is critical. He declared that in a bigger town the building might even be condemned.

Davis withdrew his motion and LaGrone moved to table any action until a special meeting which will be held at 8:30 o'clock next Tuesday night in the board room at Canyon High School.

A citizens committee last week met with the school board. The majority of the committee appeared to be in favor of a bond issue for construction of a new junior high school building.

Earlier Dr. Burwell Southern spoke in favor of the new building. "You wouldn't try to farm with 1923 equipment," Dr. Southern declared. Dr. Southern is president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

Fletcher Sims spoke against construction of the new building. He said his children had never complained of inadequacies at the old building.

He declared that the money should be spent on securing good teachers.

In other business, the board authorized advertising for bids to sell two old school buses.

The board also voted to accept resignations of 17 teachers and voted to hire 10 others.

Pirates Lead BR League

The Pirates, sponsored by the First National Bank in Canyon, have taken an early lead in the summer baseball program for Babe Ruth League with a 4-0 record.

The Cards, sponsored by Hosea Foster Agency, are in second place with a 2-1 record for a .669 percentage. In third place are the Panthers, sponsored by Graham Plow, with a 1-1 record.

Other teams in the league are the White Sox, sponsored by the Canyon Jaycees, who have an 0-2 record and the Giants, sponsored by LaPhar-Can, who hold an 0-3 record.

Grandmother's 'Frogs' Aid Children's School

BY LORENA MILLER
"Frogs" by the hundreds have proven to be a profitable hobby for Mrs. Bill Downing of Canyon.

Mrs. Downing's first experience with making the floppy, stuffed toys came last summer when she made several for a bazaar to aid the Amarillo Regional Speech and Hearing Center.

She has since devoted much time, energy and funds into the making of stuffed frogs to benefit the school, where her granddaughter, Holly, is a student. Holly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Jones of Amarillo, was born deaf and has been attending the school since she was one year old.

"The first public view of the frogs wasn't really too heartening," recalls Mrs. Downing, who now makes the frogs in all types from leopard skin, polka dot, stripe, plaid or plain materials.

"When I came home from that bazaar, I still had several of the frogs with me which we didn't sell," said Mrs. Downing and then son, Steven (Skeeter), who is a student at Canyon High School, took a liking to the frogs for decorating his bedroom -- and the idea has spread throughout the Panhandle of Texas in the past nine months.

"We've made about 500 or so frogs by now," says Mrs. Downing explaining that all proceeds from the sale of the frogs is turned in to the Speech and Hearing Center, which is operated solely on donations.

Mrs. Downing has a goal of contributing $100 or more per month to the school.

The frog project, which was begun by Mrs. Downing, has expanded until several helpers are now associated with the making of the frogs. In November, Mrs. D. R. Weaver joined in the assembly of the frogs for a Christmas bazaar.

Then in early January "several more local women jumped on the bandwagon," according to Mrs. Downing. Those presently associated with the project include Mrs. Downing, Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. Marion Higdon, Mrs. Buddy Taylor, Mrs. Gladys Haines, Mrs. Curt Samples and Mrs. Gene McGlasson.

"I cut out the frogs and sew on the button eyes and the other ladies take them home and sew them up and bring them back for me to stuff with millet seed," relates Mrs. Downing.

"It takes mountains of material, and thousands of buttons to keep up going," stated Mrs. Downing.

"The first frogs were made of velveteen and corduroy -- but due to expansion the frogs are now being made of drapery scraps and remnants which have been donated to the project," said Mrs. Downing.

"I have raided all of my friend's button boxes to select those which are appropriate for eyes and have probably bought about $15 or $20 worth of buttons for frog eyes too," Mrs. Downing said.

"We have had several real salesmen on this project," said Mrs. Downing explaining that friends and neighbors in Amarillo, Canyon and Tulsa have taken several of the frogs just to show and have come back asking for a dozen or so more.

"You'd think that after 500 frogs that you'd get tired of making them but we all find that it is a thrill to get in a new group of donated materials and figure out which colors will go together and make a pretty

GEHL MIX-ALL

Grinds! Mixes! Delivers!

The Gehl Mix-All, with economy plain feeder and exclusive crusher-feeder attachment, grinds, mixes and delivers the most uniform on-the-farm feed.

Here's proof: Samples of feed grains, ground by Gehl and competitive mills, were compared in a "sieve-shaker" analysis (a grinding uniformity test used also by commercial feed manufacturers). In test after test, Gehl samples were the most uniformly ground. And, the more uniform the grind, the better the mix!

In the Mix-All hammermill, 66 thin, alloy-steel hammers cut -- not pound ingredients on a big grinding surface for faster feed flow with reduced "fines." Come on in for a close-up look at all the Mix-All features, including the swinging auger-feeder.
